

Important Information About SIPC Coverage and Digital Asset Transactions

CPT Capital, LLC is a member of the Securities Investor Protection Corporation (SIPC). SIPC protects securities customers of its members up to $500,000, including up to $250,000 for claims for cash. Information about SIPC, including the SIPC brochure, is available at <https://www.sipc.org/> or by calling (202) 371-8300.

SIPC protection is limited. SIPC protection applies only if a SIPC-member broker-dealer fails financially and customer cash or securities are missing or at risk. SIPC does not protect against market loss, including a decline in the value of any security or other asset.

Only eligible customer cash and securities held for the purpose of purchasing securities in a brokerage account carried by CPT Capital, LLC are eligible for SIPC protection, subject to SIPA and applicable law. Not all investments or products are eligible for SIPC protection.

Crypto assets, digital assets, and related transactions that are not securities, are not held in a brokerage account at CPT Capital, LLC, or are made available through an affiliate, third party, non-U.S. trading venue, or decentralized protocol, may not be protected by SIPC. Customers engaging in those activities may not receive the protections available to customers of SEC-registered broker-dealers or other regulated entities, including broker-dealer customer protection safeguards and SIPC membership protections.

Digital assets and related instruments may be subject to materially different legal, regulatory, custody, counterparty, operational, liquidity, valuation, technology, and recovery risks than securities held in a brokerage account at a SIPC-member broker-dealer. Certain digital assets and transactions may also be offered, executed, settled, or custodied through non-U.S. or otherwise non-U.S.-regulated venues or service providers, and the protections available in U.S.-regulated brokerage markets may not apply.
